

Post-COVID-19: How Does Universal Health Coverage Compare to Other Global Priorities?

Research conducted by Mary Grace Murphy, 2026
Supervised by Dr. Tuba Agartan

Global Health Security Agenda (GHSA/GHS)

- International Health Regulations (IHR)
- Health resilience/ Health systems strengthening

Universal Health Coverage

- 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development
- UHC2030
- September 21, 2023: UN High Level Meeting on UHC

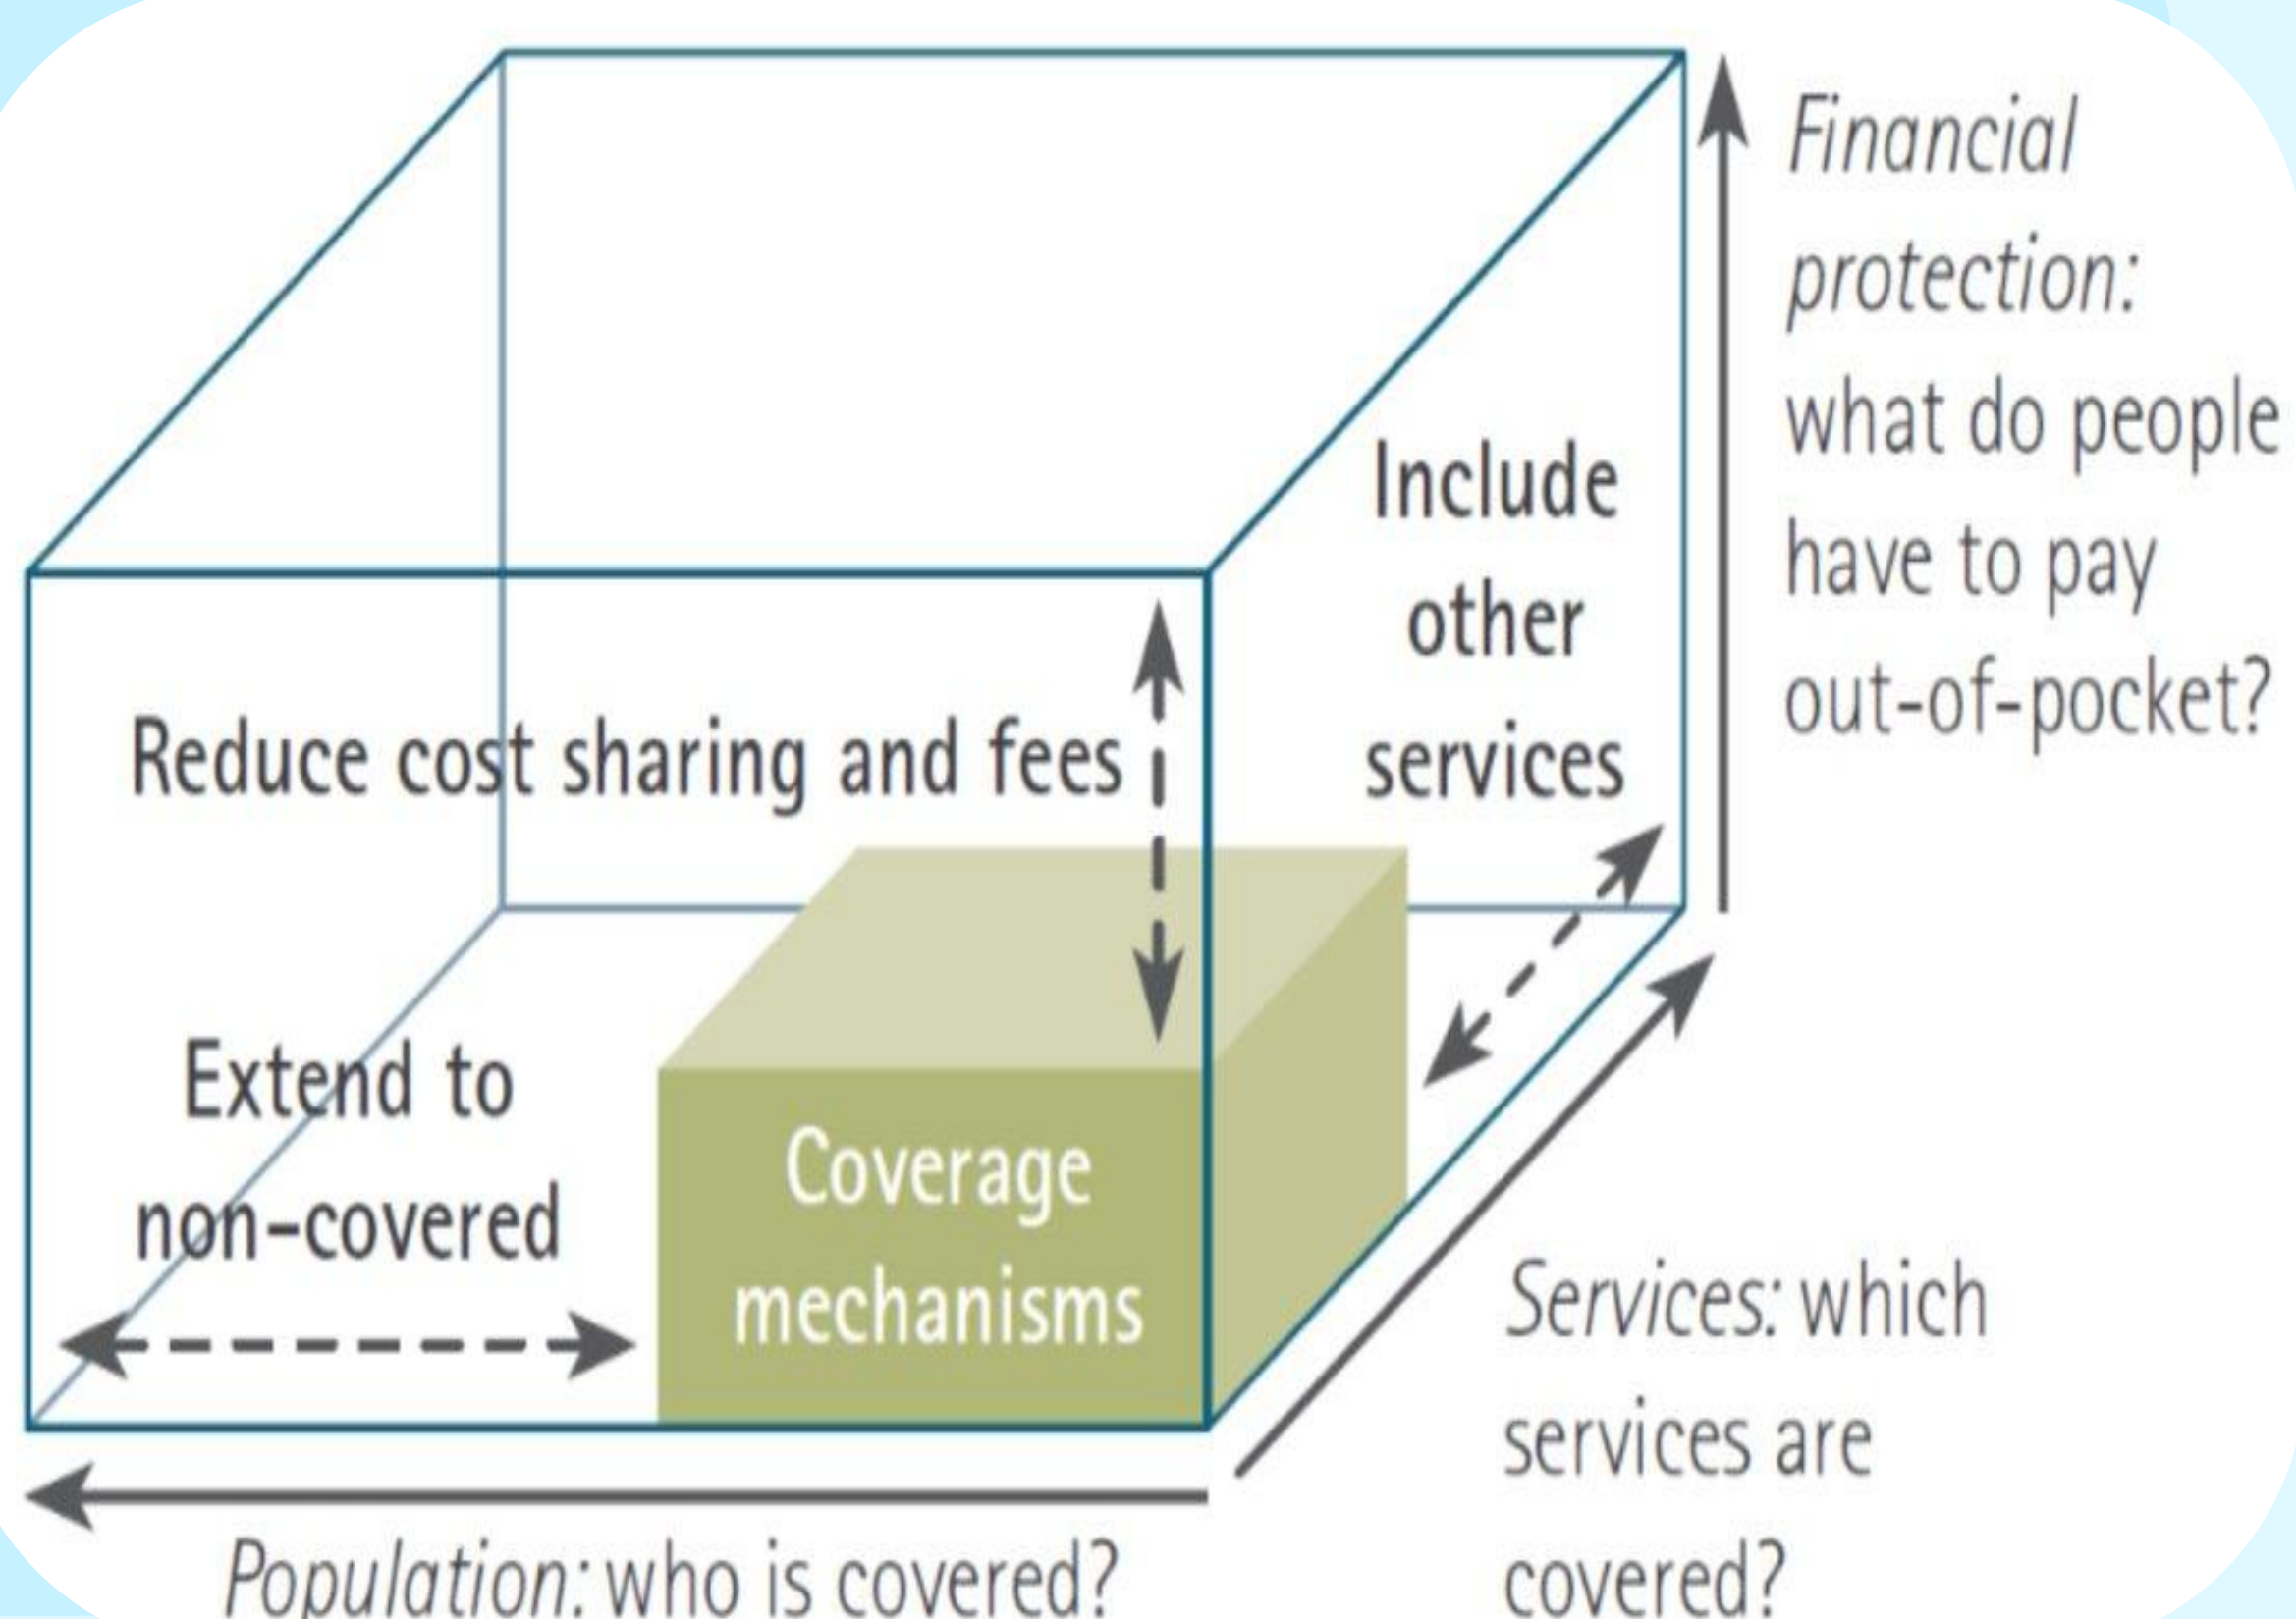

Climate

- One Health
- UN Framework Convention on Climate Change: Conference of the Parties
 - December 3, 2023: COP28

- UHC is pivotal for health resilience post-pandemic.
- Funding for UHC is critical, with a notable $1.7 trillion SDG shortfall.
- Climate action must align with UHC to address health inequities.
- GHS depends on UHC for effective disease outbreak responses.
- Strong primary healthcare is the keystone for UHC & GHS integration.

What is Universal Health Coverage (UHC)?

- Defined as all people receiving needed health services without suffering financial hardship
- A specific goal (3.8) within the Sustainable Development (SDG) Agenda
- “The umbrella for delivering health targets... a driver of social justice, human rights and inclusive economic growth”
